Warning after telephone fraudsters try to con pensioner out of her bank savings

Bogus police in scam

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

RESIDENTS have been put on alert after fraudsters pretending to be police officers tried to con a 73-year-old Haverhill woman out of her savings.

Retired Carol Fletcher received a scam call on Monday, October 19.

"The chap who phoned me said he was a fraud investigator," said Mrs Fletcher. "I live in Haverhill and he said my bank card was used in London."

She was told that £299 had been spent from her account to buy a camera at an Argos shop in London. During the call, the conman told her that a further £700 had been taken out, and gave her another number to call.

Mrs Fletcher called the number and spoke first to a woman calling herself "PC Amy", then to a man calling himself a police inspector.

She said: "He kept on and on and asked if me and my husband had any other savings. He wanted my husband's card number."

It was when the "inspector" started telling Mrs Fletcher she should open a "safe account" at the bank and he would issue her a card that she became suspicious.

When she raised her concerns, the man started threatening her. "He said: 'If you don't do it, the police will take you to court,'" she said.

Although Mrs Fletcher managed to hang up without losing her money, she is worried that vulnerable people may fall victim to the scam.

She said: "I've got a friend who's not very well at the moment, and she's so vulnerable. I know the way she is at the moment, she would've just said anything."

A spokesperson for Suffolk Trading Standards said: "A call from 'police fraud unit' asking residents to answer any personal or financial details should immediately set alarm bells ringing. The police would never ask you to open up a "safe" account or ask you for your debit or credit card.

"It is vital that anyone who has received a cold call of this nature reports it to Trading Standards via the Citizens Advice consumer service on 03454 040506 immediately to help put an end to this potentially damaging scam."

A spokesperson for Suffolk Police said: "Please advise older friends or relatives to make them aware of these bogus approaches.

"Police and bank staff will never ask you to open a bank account, hand over money or bank cards, and they will not ask for personal information such as your bank account number or PIN."

PRESENTATION: The Mayor of Haverhill, Betty McLatchy, and her consort, Ivor McLatchy, receive a cheque for £1,600 from Withersfield Carpet Bowls Club

Club raises £1,600 for mayor's fund

HAVERHILL is one step closer to having its own ultrasound machine – thanks to the fundraising efforts of a bowls club.

The Withersfield Carpet Bowls Club presented a cheque for £1,600 to the Mayor of Haverhill, Betty McLatchy, on Monday night for her Haverwell Community Wellbeing fund. Cllr McLatchy says this donation will bring the fund total to £17,000, with £19,000 needed to buy an ultrasound machine.

The club raised the money through raffles, tombola, quiz sheets and stalls at a charity fours tournament at Karro Social Club, Little Wratting, on October 10.

Warning after cat is poisoned

POLICE are warning residents not to leave paint and anti-freeze lying around – after a four-year-old cat was poisoned.

Jason Frost's cat Alfie had to be put down earlier this month after licking something poisonous.

Jason, a 46-year-old medical representative, believes Alfie was poisoned on Friday, October 16, and said the effects became clear at about midday the next day.

"He was in a really distressed state. He couldn't stand up," said Jason. "We rushed him to the vet, but unfortunately there's only a really short amount of time you can treat a poisoned cat."

Alfie had to be put down on the evening of Sunday, October 18.

Jason, his girlfriend Janette Bradbury and her 10-year-old son Ethan, had had Alfie since he was a kitten, when they adopted him from Jay-beth Animal Sanctuary in Barnardiston.

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

The family, who live in Bellings Road, had expected him to be a companion to them for over a decade.

Jason said: "Our 10-year-old's sobbing his heart out. Nobody wants that for their kids."

It is likely that Alfie was poisoned by licking up a substance such as anti-freeze or paint that had been left lying around and possibly diluted by rainwater.

Jason said: "We don't know whether it was done on purpose or not. Cats actually like anti-freeze – they like the taste, it's sweet."

"It could be that or someone leaving paintbrushes around."

The family have reported the poisoning to the police, who are urging residents not to leave this kind of poisonous substance lying around where cats could lick it up.

Maria Connolly, chair of the Haverhill and Stour Valley branch of charity Cats Protection, said: "We're very sorry to hear about this incident and we would like to express our deepest sympathies to Alfie's family."

"Cats are very susceptible to poisoning and a number of everyday household items can pose a danger to them. Symptoms of poisoning can include dizziness, loss of co-ordination and vomiting so, if your cat shows any of these signs, please take it to a vet immediately."

In 2013, a similar warning was issued in Haverhill after 10 cats across the town died after being poisoned by anti-freeze or similar substances.

If you are aware of similar occurrences or any deliberate cruelty to pets, you can call the RSPCA cruelty line on 0300 1234 999.

EVENTS

Craft market gets a Hallowe'en twist

HAVERHILL's market is getting spooky this Saturday, with Hallowe'en activities being put on for local families.

Visitors to the market square will be able to enjoy a trick or treat treasure hunt, go apple bobbing, or enjoy a spooky puppet show.

The market will also have swingboat and roundabout rides, and every child who attends in fancy dress will win a prize.

The event will take place alongside the regular craft and gift market, which will feature around 12 stalls.

It is the fifth market of this kind to be held in Haverhill this year.

Both the market and the Hallowe'en events have been organised by St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

The market and activities will run from 10am to 3pm.

HAVERHILL HEROES

Nominate your local hero for a community award

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

DO you know a community superhero? Someone who really puts in the effort to help other people in the town? If so, we want to hear from you.

The Haverhill News and the Castle Partnership Academy Trust are launching a series of awards to give you the chance to celebrate your local heroes.

The Haverhill Heroes Community Awards are an opportunity to appreciate and acknowledge the people who put so much into making Haverhill a special place.

The award winners will be celebrated at a ceremony in March when they will receive a hand-made trophy and a prize from a sponsor.

You can nominate your Haverhill heroes for six categories.

These are: business in the community, volunteer in the community, the young person's award, the local food produce award the act of kindness award and the sporting award.

Each of the awards is being sponsored by a local organisation, with confirmed sponsors so far including Abbeycroft Leisure, 1Accounts Online and Sarand Software.

The News will profile each of the categories and what their sponsors are looking for over the coming six weeks to help you decide who to nominate. You can also read a description of the categories at cambridge-news.co.uk/haverhill.

While visiting the website you can nominate your chosen local heroes, using the form provided online.

Online nominations open today, and from next Thursday, the News will be publishing a paper nomination form every week. You can drop these forms off at locations around the town, or send them into the News' office.

Nominations will close on December 18. A judging panel made up of representatives from the News, Castle Partnership Academy Trust and the category sponsors, will go through the nominations. They will decide on the winners and release a shortlist of finalists at the end of January next year.

The finalists will be profiled in the News in the run-up to the Haverhill Heroes awards ceremony, which will be held in late March at the Haverhill Arts Centre.

The glittering event will be organised with the input of Castle Manor pupils, who will help to put together the decorations, food and drink and trophy design.

Vanessa Whitcomb, head of school at Castle Manor said: "This is a really exciting project that cements our place at the heart of our community."

The awards are open to people of all ages who live, work or volunteer in the Haverhill area.

CULTURE

Special screenings at cinema

AUTISM-FRIENDLY screenings are beginning at the Haverhill Arts Centre next week.

The screenings will feature lower sound levels and a lighter auditorium than typical cinema screenings, and there may be more noise from the audience.

The screenings are being run in partnership with Leading Lives, the organisation for adults with physical and learning disabilities.

Nick Keeble, arts and leisure manager at the arts centre, said: "We have been thinking about doing screenings like this for some time so it's great to be able to team up with experts Leading Lives to make sure we're doing it right."

The first screening will be Inside Out at 10am on Thursday, November 5, and the second will be Pan at 10am on Thursday, December 3.

The screenings are open to all and cost £3.50. Visit www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk to book.

CRIME

Man offering sweets to Year Seven boy was playing prank, say police

A MAN offering sweets to a Year Seven pupil was playing a "prank", police have said.

The Linton Village College pupil was walking in the village on October 13 when the man, who had a bicycle, approached him.

The school's headteacher Caroline Derbyshire told the News the boy was offered sweets but said he did not like them and ran away.

Cambridgeshire police have now confirmed that this incident was a "prank", but they are still investigating a similar incident on Monday, October 19.

Police were called that day at 5.40pm by a member of the public who said her daughter had been shouted at by two men in a car.

The car was described as a grey saloon, and the men were aged 19 to 25 and both had beards.

Sgt Sandra Davidson said: "Following an investigation we have been able to establish that the incident on October 13 was in fact an unpleasant prank.

"We continue to investigate the incident on October 19 but would like to reassure people that this appears to be an isolated incident. We would, as always, encourage parents to reinforce the message to children that they should never get into a stranger's vehicle."

Anyone with information about the October 19 incident should call police on 101, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111.

New sign flags up speed of cars

A SIGN which tells drivers how fast their vehicle is going will soon be put up in Haverhill.

The vehicle-activated sign is portable and will be rotated between five different locations in the town where residents say that speeding is an issue.

It will show motorists the speed their vehicle is travelling at, and at the same time will gather data about the speed and volume of traffic.

The project was brought about by Haverhill Police's Insp Peter Ferrie and town, borough and county councillor Tony Brown, after residents raised the issue of speeding at Safer Neighbourhood Team meetings. It has been made possible with funding from Cllr Brown's highways budget.

This is the first time in Suffolk that a sign like this has been put up in a town, not a village.

SLOW DOWN: PCSO Sophie Mitchell, Cllr Tony Brown and Insp Peter Ferrie with the new sign.

COURT

Landlord fined for fly-tipping

A LANDLORD has been fined £1,300 – after someone who offered to get rid of his building waste ended up fly-tipping it.

Halil Ibrahim Tuga, 36, admitted at Bury St Edmunds Magistrates' court last Thursday, two charges relating to breaches of care in the disposal of controlled waste.

The offences took place between April 30 and May 4 this year, as Tuga was renovating a property in Haverhill's Camps Road.

Although Tuga, of Cranleigh Court, Silver Street, London, did not dump the waste himself, he failed to make sure that the person who did had an environmental permit.

He also failed to complete a transfer note for a licensed carrier to take away the rubbish, which he was required to do by law.

The dumped rubbish included a large pile of red bricks, broken sheets of plasterboard, a green plastic crate containing cables and wood, breeze blocks and a builder's sack containing more broken plasterboard.

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

A St Edmundsbury Borough Council enforcement officer was informed on May 5 that it had been dumped at Hanchett Hall, near Haverhill.

Tuga told the court that someone working on the site had offered to take away waste metal, and Tuga replied that he could, provided he took away the other waste as well.

He admitted that he was not aware he had to use a licensed carrier to dispose of it.

As well as building materials, the rubbish included paperwork such as letters, invoices and certificates which linked it to the property at 6 Camps Road.

The council officer tracked down the owner of the building and interviewed him under caution on June 4.

Tuga said he had since been to the site and cleared away the rubbish himself, as well as apologising to the land owner.

The court ordered Tuga to pay a total of £1,347.50. This included costs of £637.50, £500 in fines, a £180 court charge and £30 victim surcharge.

St Edmundsbury's cabinet member for operations, Cllr Peter Stevens, said: "Fly tipping is a serious offence which not only impacts on the environment but also costs the local community."

"In England, in 2013/14 there were 852,000 incidents of fly-tipping which cost local authorities £45.2 million to clear."

"In St Edmundsbury in 2014/15 there were 227 record incidents of fly-tipping costing £29,000 to clear up."

"This is dirty, disgusting and where we can gather sufficient evidence we will prosecute. Fly tipplers be warned."

HOUSING

Homes for over-55s finished

A PROJECT to replace 1960s terraced bungalows with modern housing for over-55s has been completed.

The £3.5m site in Haverhill's Withersfield Road has been created by Havebury Housing Association.

Some tenants have already moved into the 22 new flats and five bungalows, which benefit from communal facilities, including a lounge and kitchen.

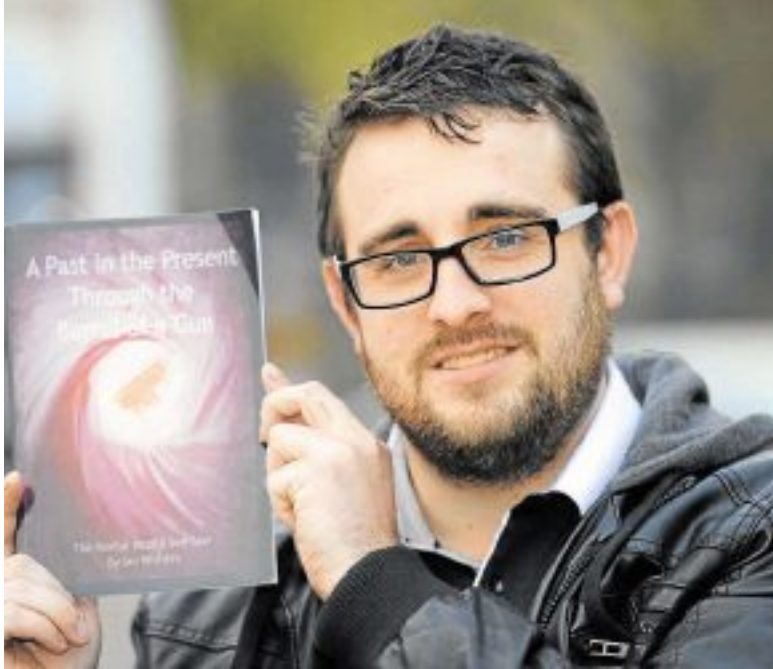

Thirteen of the new tenants have moved there from the now-closed William Blake Court, a previous Havebury sheltered housing project.

The remaining properties are being let to tenants aged over 55.

The housing scheme is energy efficient and has secure mobile scooter charging and storage spaces, as well as two lifts and parking spaces for residents.

PUBLISHING

REDUCING THE STIGMA: Ian with a copy of his book about mental health Picture: David Johnson

Mission to offer help and support

IAN Withers was just 20 when he was threatened with a gun by a robber at the Haverhill shop where he worked.

Ian, now 29 and living in the town's Beaumont Court, says the ordeal was one of the factors that contributed to his struggles with mental health throughout his twenties.

"The anxiety comes from the armed robbery and the fear of the gun," he said. "Even today if someone's walking behind me, I will hesitate."

As well as anxiety, Ian, who works as an accountant in Cambridge, has suffered from depression.

He said: "The depression was something that developed more slowly. I didn't know what it was."

During a six-month course of therapy that finished earlier this year, Ian developed a theory of mental health as being like a see-saw. He envisages the ideal state of mental health as finding a balance between negative feelings and the factors that alleviate them, whether these are short-term, like drugs and alcohol, or long-term, like the support of family and friends.

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

Ian has published a book, "A Past in the Present through the Barrel of a Gun", which details his thoughts on mental health and his journey through it.

The book contains many examples of his poems and creative writing, as well as advice on who to turn to if you feel you need help.

Ian would like the book to provide comfort to people who are suffering from mental health problems, and to reduce some of the social stigma that surrounds them.

He said: "This is really an attempt to create awareness. I feel like socially it's very hush-hush. Since having this come out, some people I have had no idea about have come forward. It's starting to reach out to people."

The book is only the start of Ian's mission to connect with and support people who are suffering in silence.

He is hoping to launch a website called "You Are Not Alone", which would provide advice and resources for people with mental health problems.

He said: "I want to build it up and do more. My aim is to be a mental health ambassador."

His book is out now on amazon.co.uk. Until tomorrow, the Kindle edition costs just 99p, after which it will be £2.50. The paper edition costs £6.50.

To get in touch with Ian, email mental.health.see-saw@gmail.com.

Please restore ancient path

WHILE on the subject of breathing new life into the town's landmarks, could I make a plea for something to be done to restore what is probably one of Haverhill's oldest features, the ancient footpath that runs along the rear of houses in Ganwick and Moneypiece Closes, designated as footpath 45?

This was once intended to be part of a proposed green corridor around Haverhill, but that plan seems to have been quietly dropped.

This footpath is part of a public byway that runs from the village of Great Watrat, which is mentioned in the Domesday Book, south over the hill by the water tower and down towards the Roman road from Cambridge to Colchester that is now known as Withersfield Road. Where it reaches Ganwick Close the byway does a sharp left turn, possibly in order to skirt a substantial building that was once there. It carries on for 100 yards or so before resuming its way downhill, meeting Withersfield Road at Waters Edge.

All this is clearly shown on the first Ordnance Survey map of the area, dated 1805, and it is fair to assume that it was in existence for a long time before that.

Most of this public byway has been scrupulously maintained. It is the stretch to the rear of Ganwick and Moneypiece Closes that has been totally neglected since before I moved into my newly-built property 25 years ago. It was downgraded from a bridleway in 2005, and is even signposted as a footpath. However, it is impossible for any person to get through it due to its seriously overgrown condition.

Appeals to Suffolk County Council through the local councillor to clear this footpath have proved fruitless. It would seem that the council is waiting for a developer to resurrect the green corridor proposal and include footpath 45 in it. How long that will take and whether a developer will even agree to it is anyone's guess. Meanwhile this ancient public right of way that survived for centuries is left through neglect to become increasingly impassable.

Support the Poppy Appeal

ON behalf of Suffolk County Council, and the mayors and chairmen of the borough and district councils throughout Suffolk, I write to urge everyone in the county to support the 2015 Poppy Appeal of the Royal British Legion (RBL).

This year, as we continue to mark the centenary of the First World War and the 75th anniversary of the end of the Second World War, The Royal British Legion is asking everyone to support the Poppy Appeal for the memory of the fallen and the future of the living. Additionally, we are ever mindful of the sacrifices made by our armed forces, in more recent conflicts. The debt we owe to the brave people who protect our country and its way of life is as real today as it ever was.

The RBL created the Poppy Appeal to help those returning from the First World War. Over a century on from the start of that conflict, they are still helping today's armed forces families in much the same way, whether coping with bereavement, living with disability or finding employment.

The poppy is a powerful symbol – it is worn to commemorate the sacrifices of our armed forces and to show support to those still serving today, and their loved ones.

I ask everyone to show special generosity in supporting the work of the RBL whose services are so vital to the care and welfare of our dedicated service men and women and their families.

Do something about parking

I DECIDED to venture down to Haverhill's high street on Sunday. What on earth is going on in Haverhill? Is it that people are so flush with money that they can afford to park on pavements and risk getting a ticket or is it the lack of enforcement!

BOTH!

If you go to proper managed towns where they have proper enforcement teams, the deterrent is there as you know if you park illegally you get fined

It's about time:

1, We had the signs put up which were promised by the county council
2, The police actually enforce parking laws 24/7 as they have the powers to issue tickets for this offence anywhere within Haverhill's boundaries where double yellows exist
3, Councillors please can you get a grip and fight this problem once and for all and get a private firm in to stop this nonsense

EDUCATION

School told it must improve

A SCHOOL has been told by the government it has to improve – after results fell short of predicted grades.

At Castle Manor Academy in Haverhill, 52 per cent of pupils were predicted 5 A* to C grades at GCSE. But when results came out, only 37 per cent had achieved this.

In maths the school fell particularly short, with just 51 per cent of students making expected levels of progress in the subject.

Regional schools commissioner Tim Coulson sent a letter to the Castle Partnership Academy Trust's board of directors on October 12, which said the discrepancy was a concern. Dr Coulson added that the Secretary of State believed the school's standards were "unacceptably low".

The letter details six ways the school could improve the situation, including creating a plan to address sixth-formers' under-performance and ensuring teachers are held to account for all the pupils they teach.

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

The letter asks that the strategies are implemented by November 6.

A Department for Education spokesperson said: "It is crucial for the pupils of Castle Manor Academy that standards improve rapidly."

"The pre-warning notice issued to the school is the first stage of the intervention process. We expect all schools issued with notices to take effective and immediate action to ensure pupils receive the best possible education."

Castle Manor's head of school, Vanessa Whitcombe, said: "We know that we have work to do in improving standards in some areas of our school. Our plan for rapid improvement, alongside the hard work of the leadership team, staff and students here at Castle Manor, will lead to raised standards. A representative of the regional schools commissioner will visit us in November to review the progress we have made since I took up post at Easter. My focus at all times is on ensuring our young people can succeed, are well supported and achieve the best possible outcomes. It is very disappointing that this letter, which has not yet been made publicly available, has been passed to the press."

Chairman of the academy trust's board of directors, John Baillie, added: "The Castle Partnership Academy Trust Board of Directors have already taken decisive action, of which parents of Castle Manor Academy students are fully aware. Castle Manor Academy has already developed a rapid improvement plan, which will be shared with Dr Tim Coulson, the regional schools commissioner, and his team."

Dancers shine in national finals

A DANCE school's pupils competed in national finals this month – with one named UK freestyle champion.

Phoebe Barr, who trains at the Cambridge and Haverhill-based DancXcel Academy, came first in the over 14s silver and gold category at the ISTD Freestyle Grand Finals on October 11. Seven other DancXcel pupils were finalists in the contest.

At the UKA Premier Ballroom and Latin Festival in Blackpool the previous week, five DancXcel pupils made it to the finals.

CHARITY

CHARITY FUNDRAISING: Great-grandmother Rose Felloni is helping to raise cash for research into Prader-Willi Syndrome.

Shop will raise research funds

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

A GREAT-GRANDMOTHER who has raised thousands of pounds for medical research has opened her own charity shop.

Rose Felloni, who lives in Haverhill's Sorrell Walk and has seven great-grandchildren, opened the shop on Tuesday.

The proceeds from the items she sells will go towards the Prader-Willi Syndrome Association, to which she donated £10,000 last year.

She has been fundraising for the charity for years and has completed a skydive and walked on hot coals to raise money for it.

She has been raising cash for the association because her daughter, Deena Renyard, suffered from Prader-Willi Syndrome, which causes excessive eating.

Deena passed away as a result of the condition in 2005, and Rose is determined to fund as much research into it as possible.

She said: "There's no government money that goes into it because so few people suffer from it. It isn't as emotive as cancer, but the effects are just as devastating."

Rose has a licence that allows her to sell items from Haverhill's local recycling centre. She has been selling the items online as part of her fundraising efforts, and is now continuing to sell the recovered items in her new shop.

On Tuesday she held an official launch event for the shop which is based at Plants that Grow in Ridgewell Road, Great Yeldham.

The shop is based in a hut outside the garden centre, but Rose also has stands inside a greenhouse. Rose sells a wide variety of things she has recovered from the recycling centre. Some of the items she is selling at the moment include a brand new set of ladies' golf clubs, motorcycle helmets and Nordic walking poles.

Rose says the quality of the items she sees thrown away at the recycling centre is shockingly high.

She added: "They're brand new, but people for whatever reason have just rejected them."

It makes me cry when I see some of the things."

She gave the example of a large craft magnifying glass in perfect condition which had been thrown away simply because the owner decided it was too heavy.

The shop is open from 10am to 4pm.

Rose is still selling items online as well as in her shop. You can take a look at facebook.com/rose.felloni.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Police arrest and bail drugs suspect

A MAN has been arrested on suspicion of drugs offences.

The 29-year-old man from London was searched in Haverhill at around 3.30pm on Monday and arrested on suspicion of possession of a class B drug and possession with intent to supply class A drugs.

He has been bailed to return to Bury St Edmunds Police Investigation Centre on Monday, December 14.

Thousands attend county skills show

AROUND 4,500 young people turned out to a county-wide careers event last week.

The second annual Suffolk Skills show took place at Trinity Park in Ipswich on Wednesday, October 21.

The event, targeted at young people aged 11 to 24, saw hundreds of businesses setting up stalls about careers in a wide variety of industries.

KARATE

Marie 'over the moon' with championship win

CELEBRATING: Marie Kicks, second from right, with the England team in Slovenia

A KARATE expert who almost pulled out of a world championship after the death of her father has gone on to win gold.

Marie Kicks, 42, who lives in Haverhill's Spindle Road, was competing in the World Karate Championship in Slovenia, which ran from October 12 to 18.

Her team of three UK women won gold with a decisive victory, but the death of her father meant Marie had almost chosen not to attend.

Alec Croucher died, aged 64, on Monday, October 12, the day before she was due to fly to Slovenia. Alec was the person who first got Marie into martial arts, taking her to classes to help her stand up to school bullies.

She said: "Aged seven, he dragged me to martial arts and said: 'Do something with her.'"

Marie said that she almost chose not to continue with the championships after her dad passed away, but her mother convinced her Alec would have wanted her to compete.

She said: "I almost turned back at the airport. My emotions were all over the shop."

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

But she is glad she chose to attend, as she had been specially selected for the team. She said: "Just to be there was a privilege. You don't just apply for it and get it, you get nominated for all your achievements."

She was competing in rotation alongside two other women from the UK. They had to score points by hitting members of the opposite team in the correct way, and won their match by an impressive nine points to their opponents' one.

Marie said she was "over the moon" with the win.

The championship was attended by representatives from 46 countries, and Marie spent time supporting the other members of the 30-strong British team while she was there.

Marie added: "It was very exciting, very eye opening, but obviously there were emotions running wild. I think a roller-coaster ride is the best way to describe it."

REMEMBRANCE

Remembering town's only servicewoman casualty

GERTRUDE Joan Backler (known as Joan) was the first and only servicewoman casualty from Haverhill in both World Wars. Born in August, 1924, she was the daughter of Albert and Gertrude Florence Backler and older sister of Peter. The family lived at 53 Withersfield Road.

Joan's Haverhill ancestors can be traced back to the early 1700s and bear the family names of many who still live locally. (Backler, Bignore, Spicer, Basham, Farrant, Page)

Joan attended Haverhill Secondary School and was a member of the Old Independent Church Sunday School and the choir. She was a cadet in the Women's Junior Air Corps, and as unit sergeant, attained the highest rank possible for her age.

Joan was a member of the dramatic society and also played cricket for JWAC.

After leaving school, she worked in the egg department of Mr F Sainsbury, Little Wratting.

In response to a govern-

In the run-up to Remembrance Sunday, the Haverhill News is publishing a series of articles which delve into the town's wartime past and explore the history of the people who sacrificed so much.

This week, Charmian Thompson, of Haverhill's Family History Group, tells the story of the town's only servicewoman casualty of the Second World War.

ment appeal to women to 'release a sailor for active service' Joan signed up as a Wren telegraphist in October, 1943.

After completing six months training at HMS Cabala in Lancashire, Joan was posted to HMS Blackcap near Warrington, at the end of April, 1944.

On May 4, 1944, just a few days after arriving, Joan was taking a message by bicycle to the control tower during a heavy rainstorm. Somehow, she got onto the perimeter track and collided with a Miles Master (training aircraft).

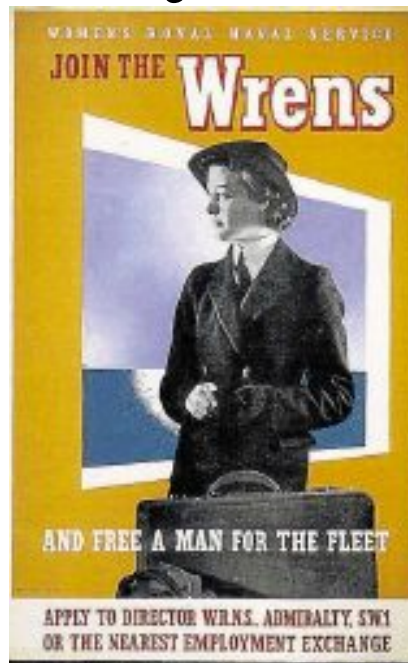

Joan, aged 19 years, died from her injuries and was buried in Haverhill with full military honours. Her white -ensign draped coffin was carried by soldiers of a Scottish regiment and was preceded to the cemetery by the regimental pipe band who played the dirge "The Flowers of the Forest".

The South West Suffolk Echo on May 13, 1944, reported that "the very large concourse of friends and sympathisers who gathered in the West End Church and at the cemetery bore testimony to the high regard in which Joan was held in the town".

Unfortunately, Haverhill's Family History Group has not been able to find a photo of Joan.

If you have one, they would love to have a copy to add to her tribute in the WW2 Roll of Honour. Email haverhill@suffolkfhs.org.uk or phone (01440) 712652.

DEVELOPMENT

Councils may start housing company

ST Edmundsbury Borough Council may become part of a project to deliver new homes in West Suffolk.

The council, together with Forest Heath District Council and Suffolk County Council, is considering setting up a company to develop homes for sale and for rent.

They would use the money to develop services, an alternative model to the traditional approach of councils selling land for homes and gaining a one-off capital receipt.

Cllr Sara Mildmay-White, lead councillor for housing for the West Suffolk councils, said: "This new commercial operation will help to build much-needed homes in line with local demands and needs."

"It will deliver a mix of homes for sale and for rent as well as supplying 30 per cent of the homes at affordable rents or at prices aimed at the first time buyer."

"Selling and renting out homes will provide the councils with an income to support other services as government funding reduces."

The Forest Heath and St Edmundsbury cabinets met to discuss the possibility on Tuesday.

It will go before Suffolk County Council's cabinet on November 10 and the two West Suffolk councils on November 17.

B & C class shines through glass

HELPFUL: B & C Glass has a great reputation with private and business clients

B&C GLASS is a small, friendly and local business which has been operating since 1981 in Haverhill.

In that time it has built a reputation unrivalled in the industry. "We serve many large contractors and companies, but also supply the general public and trade," says office manager Pippa Ketteridge. "We're very versatile and can literally deal with any order involving glass that you could imagine."

"B&C Glass can not only help with the supply and fit of high quality uPVC windows, doors and conservatories, but can help with any small order; a replacement picture frame glass or window pane, for example, or a fridge shelf."

Other services available include the supply of greenhouse glass, glass shelving, furniture tops, toughened safety glass, mirrors, balustrading, well covers, single glazed glass, bevelled glass, leaded glass, coloured glass splash backs and secondary glazing. "Secondary glazing is a popular choice at this time of year," explains Pippa. "People who can't have double glazing (those with listed properties) will often contact us for secondary glazing in preparation for winter." B & C also repairs/replaces uPVC locks, handles and other window/door parts to avoid unnecessary full-frame replacement costs.

B&C Glass offers both a supply-and-fit or a supply-only service. "We are always happy to offer advice and information to assist a customer if they would like to complete installations themselves. With over 30 years of experience, we are able to pass on a wealth of glazing knowledge" says Pippa. "We make kitchen and bathroom splash backs – available in any colour – these are becoming very popular as they provide a sleek, modern and clean finish, with no need for tiling and grout!"

Shelves, mirrors and furniture tops can be supplied on a same-day basis if needed, as it's all done in house." All single glazing glass is kept in stock, available for immediate supply (only toughened glass requires a week for delivery.)

B&C Glass also offers emergency call outs for repairs and boarding of shop fronts or homes in an emergency.

dine out for £10

FEELING hungry? Our ever-popular Dine Out for £10 promotion has returned, in association with our sister paper, the Cambridge News. The offer, which runs until Thursday, November 5, 2015, gives you the chance to enjoy great value meals out at the pubs and restaurants listed below. Whether you fancy a tasty steak, a fabulous fish dish or a vegetarian feast, there will be something for you with our exclusive offer.

HOW TO TAKE UP THE OFFER

1 Collect three tokens – of which two MUST be from those published regularly in the Cambridge News. The third can also be from the Cambridge News, or you can use one of our bonus tokens. These are published here or can be printed off from our website at cambridge-news.co.uk/food-and-drink. Photocopies will not be accepted.

2 Phone to book a place at your chosen restaurant, stating that you wish to take advantage of the 'Dine Out for £10' offer. Don't forget, the venues are running the offer at certain times and days of the week, as stated in this guide.

3 Present your tokens as you order your food. Three tokens entitle two people to dine for £10 EACH on the special Cambridge News menus – excluding drinks. If more than two people are dining you'll need more tokens: six tokens for 3-4 people, nine for 5-6 people etc.

TERMS & CONDITIONS

The offer is subject to availability and runs until Thursday, November 5, 2015. Those failing to present the correct number of tokens, or presenting photocopies, will not be entitled to use the offer. Issues concerning food or service should be taken up with the venue concerned.

A night of scares...

Those of a nervous disposition should stay safely at home tomorrow as prowling around East Town Park will be all sorts of gruesome Hallowe'en sights and frights.

The Hallowe'en Trail, organised by Haverhill Town Council, is free, suitable for all the family and will take place between 6.45pm – 7.15pm and 7.45pm – 8.15pm.

Nick Keeble, arts and leisure manager for the town council, said: "This year we have something up the witch's sleeve that gives me the creeps just to think of it."

"We've also introduced new start times. It seems the people of Haverhill love to have their blood curdled and their bones chilled and the event has got more and more popular over the years. The new system will hopefully mean families can pick the time that suits them best and allow them to see the ghoulish attractions quicker."

Dressing up is always encouraged but it is important to wear suitable shoes. Children must be accompanied by an adult. There is no parking available at East Town Park and not all the site is accessible to those with pushchairs or in wheelchairs. The event is free but there will be a donations bucket.

■ The Hallowe'en Trail will take place at East Town Park on Friday, October 30, at 6.45pm and 7.45pm. Entrance is free.

YUK! The Horrible side to history brings a host of gory characters to Cambridge Arts Theatre

That's nasty!

THE Horrible Histories series is a bookshelf staple, Terry Deary's gory tales of terrible Tudors, rotten Romans and slimy Stuarts keeping mini (and not so mini) bookworms reading long into the night.

Well, we've got good news: some of the series' most gruesome characters will be leaping off the page and on to the stage this half-term for the best history lesson you've ever had.

After the success of last year's Barmy Britain show, Birmingham Stage Company

Horrible Histories: Groovy Greeks and Incredible Invaders, Cambridge Arts Theatre, until Saturday, at various times. Tickets £15-£20 from (01223) 503333/camartstheatre.com is returning to Cambridge Arts Theatre with two brand new Horrible Histories stage shows: Groovy Greeks and Incredible Invaders.

Exploring the bloodiest, nastiest bits of history – the bits the teachers forget to mention – you'll witness the savage Saxons smash their way through Hadrian's Wall, catch King

Alfred burning his buns and, if you're not careful, maybe even be zapped by Zeus – not ideal.

With added 3D fun, not to mention catchy tunes and lots of laughs, it promises to bring the past to life in the most extraordinary way.

There's lots of half-term activities to accompany the show too, including a Horrible Histories Hallowe'en Extravaganza on Saturday, which will see the Arts Theatre transformed into a ghoulish cave.

Don't miss it!

■ Popular Blunderbus Theatre returns with MY PET MONSTER AND ME today at 11.30am and 2.30pm. Sophie Bucket lives on a farm with her Dad. She spends all of her time day dreaming, on her own. If only she had a little friend to share her adventures. One day, Sophie finds an egg. She keeps it warm and out pops a cuddly, toothy, burpy, baby MONSTER! And then the fun begins ...

■ Following on from the success of David Starkey's The Tudors and Us last year, David returns to Haverhill on Wednesday, November 4, at 7.30pm with MAGNA CARTA (see below). David, the UK's leading constitutional historian, talks about the 13th century agreement that, imperfect though it was, and radically modified in its first 10 years, limited the power of the monarch by stating the basic rights, privileges, and liberties of leading citizens and clergy. His assessment of the situation then, and how our constitution stands today exactly 800 years later, is likely to amaze and challenge you.

■ The award-winning INDIANS have been one of Ireland's most successful show bands for more than 40 years. Join the audience at 7.30pm on Friday, November 6, for a cracking night of country to popular Irish music and other tunes. Feathers are optional but they mustn't be too long ...

■ On the cinema front the arts centre is showing IRRATIONAL MAN (12A) starring Joaquin Phoenix, on Thursday, October 29, at 7.30pm. A hell-raising and womanising philosophy professor is inspired to concoct a crime that he feels will make the world a fairer place. Robert Redford, Nick Nolte and Emma Thompson star in A WALK IN THE WOODS (15) on Tuesday at 7.30pm and Monday, November 9, at 1.30pm. In this hilarious tale, based on Bill Bryson's best-selling memoir, Redford plays the genial author, determined to hike the entire 2,100 mile Appalachian Trail. His companion is Katz a cantankerous comrade from his distant past. EVEREST 2D (12A) is showing on Thursday, November 5, at 7.30pm. This gripping drama is based on a disastrous 1996 expedition when eight climbers lost their lives attempting an ascent on Everest. Two teams battle vicious snowstorms and avalanches to reach the summit of the world's most unforgiving mountain. Both groups get trapped in the harshest of conditions and a subsequent rescue party becomes mired in a deadly struggle to bring them back.

■ This autumn in partnership with Leading Lives, the organisation for adults with learning disabilities, autism and physical disabilities, the arts centre is piloting autism friendly cinema screenings. These screenings are open to everyone but will have lower than usual sound levels, the lights will be kept at a low level and we will allow for increased levels of noise and movement. Our first screening on Thursday, November 5, at 10am is INSIDE OUT 2D (U). Eleven-year-old Riley has reluctantly been uprooted from rural Minnesota to San Francisco. We see her experiences mostly through the five key emotions inside her head (joy, fear, disgust and sadness) as they compete over how best to help her deal with the challenges of a new life.

EVEREST: at the arts centre next Thursday

TV historian lays to rest some myths

WE all think we know the story of the Magna Carta: the document wicked King John was forced to sign 800 years ago that laid the foundation of modern democracy.

David Starkey says we've got it wrong. The TV historian, who is doing a talk about the historic document at the Haverhill Arts Centre on Wednesday, wants to revise modern opinions of the 1215 Magna Carta.

He said: "It's a Jeremy Corbyn moment: it's extreme, it's radical, it's republican. And it's an extreme failure. It leads directly to civil war."

Dr Starkey says the document wreaked havoc for Britain. He says that what really paves the way for modern British politics is the Magna Carta of 1216, a revised version just two-thirds of the length of the original. It was issued after the death of King John by the Conservative regent of the 9-year-old Henry III.

"It's one of these characteristic exercises of stealing political clothes from the right to the left," said Dr Starkey.

It is this alternative story of the Magna Carta, and the lessons it can teach about compromise, that the historian wants to tell.

He said: "The extraordinary success story of Britain is that it's built on this foundation of compromise, not the politics of principle."

Dr Starkey has told this version of the Magna Carta story in his book and television programme. The event in Haverhill will combine a talk on the history of the document with a chance to ask questions and engage in debate about this crucial moment in Britain's history.

David Starkey will be speaking on Wednesday, November 4, at 7.30pm at the Haverhill Arts Centre.

Tickets are available at www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk or by calling (01440) 714140.

Creepy triumph before Hallowe'en

If there was ever a show to get you in the mood for Hallowe'en, it's the Addams Family musical.

Centre Stage Theatre Company's production at the Haverhill Arts Centre last week featured ghosts, witches' brews – and some frighteningly talented young people.

The show tells the story of what happens when the macabre-minded Wednesday Addams (Laura Dodd), who is fond of crossbows and torture devices, falls in love with a "normal" young man.

The slick production featured a 25-strong chorus performing elaborate dance moves in perfect time, a polished-looking set and some excellent comic timing.

It was hard to believe that the cast – some of whom were playing ghosts and grandmas – were all under 23.

Growly-voiced Tony Trott as Uncle Fester filled the stage with his presence and stole the show with a love song to the moon.

Daisy Webb as Wednesday's mother Morticia glided across the stage like a sardonic icicle, breaking into dance without seeming to make any effort at all.

Although the American accents occasionally faltered, this never detracted from how enjoyable and attention-grabbing the show was. Even zombie butler Lurch (Alex Rodwell), who staying story-faced and silent for much of the show, managed a hilariously comprehensible series of mimes and grunts about his life history.

The show was a triumph for the company, and all the young people involved with it. If you missed your chance to have your spine chilled last week (the run ended on Saturday), make sure you catch Centre Stage's next production, a pantomime of Rapunzel, in January next year.

'Ultimate Bond Tour' is a hit for Aston Martin dealership

HARSTON-based Lancaster Aston Martin Cambridge hosted the Ultimate Bond Tour last week, which included a first look at the DB10 created for the new James Bond film, Spectre, a talk by Bond stunt man Mark Higgins – and concludes with a champagne reception at Cineworld Multiplex in St Neots on Monday night.

Celebrating the great British brand's half century with Bond, which started with the iconic DB5, the DB10 gives a glimpse to the future design direction for the next generation of Aston Martins.

Dr Andy Palmer, CEO of Aston Martin, said: "In the same year that we celebrate our 50-year relationship with 007, it seems doubly fitting that today we unveiled this wonderful new sports car created especially for James Bond.

"To be partnering once again with EON Productions is great news for this company and for everyone around the world that loves to see Bond at the wheel of an Aston Martin.

"I'm incredibly proud of everyone in the team at Caydon who have brought this special project from concept to reality."

Meanwhile the Harston dealership's dealer principal Simon Lane said: "We had a fantastic evening, giving our guests the chance to get up close and personal with the new Bond car ahead of the world premiere. We were lucky enough for champion driver Mark Higgins to spend the evening with us, who shared some fascinating insights into the life of an award-winning stunt driver and brought to life what it is really like to test these supercars to their limits.

"The event was the latest instalment in a nationwide dealership tour marking the forthcoming release of Spectre which premieres on Monday. Guests of Aston Martin Cambridge were given an exclusive preview of the iconic DB10, the latest bespoke Aston Martin built for Bond, of which there are only ten in the world.

"The event also featured an iconic Aston Martin DB5, the classic model first driven by Bond in 1964's Goldfinger."

Higgins, who earned his name as a rally driver, said it was "a dream come true appearing in a Bond film".

Murketts revisits scrappage

LOCAL Vauxhall retailer Murketts Vauxhall is making new car purchases hassle-free by offering customers in and around East Anglia an advantage of a £2,000 (including VAT) scrappage trade-in against most new passenger cars in its range as part of a new scheme run by Vauxhall.

To qualify for the scheme, customers must have owned their trade-in vehicle for a minimum of 90 days; there is no upper limit on the age of the car and can be any manufacturer's vehicle.

The dealership with sites in Cambridge and Huntingdon is offering the Scrappage Allowance scheme until December 15, giving local residents a welcome discount on selected vehicles. Cars in the scheme include the Vauxhall Zafira, Astra, Insignia, selected Corsas and many more, so there's something for every motorist.

The Scrappage Allowance scheme, which is available in conjunction with other offers, also includes the Vauxhall Mokka. This 4x4 brings innovation to the SUV segment by offering features more typically found on higher vehicle classes. With plenty of room for five occupants and a higher seating position, the Mokka is suitable for a diverse range of daily needs.

Mark Smith, group sales manager at Murketts Vauxhall, comments: "With up to £2,000 off selected vehicles, a new Vauxhall has never looked more appealing. I would encourage anyone looking to sell their vehicle in East Anglia to come along and see how much they could save.

"There couldn't be a better time to consider buying a new Vauxhall, after all, where else could you trade in your old things for a discount on something new?"

GENERATION Y AND PRICE: Factor

Price is key to appeal for younger buyers

PRICE has always been critical to the youngest used car buyers. But research commissioned for the BCA Used Car Market Report shows that this has increased considerably in the last year.

In 2015, 65 per cent of 17-24 year old used car buyers said that price had the strongest influence on their vehicle search – this was the highest percentage in five years and a 14 percentage point rise on the previous year.

More used car buyers (49 per cent) in the 17-24 year old age group were looking for a good deal when buying their last car than any other age sector. When looking for their next car, 67 per cent of this youngest age group of motorists said price was the biggest overall factor, compared to 58 per cent nationally.

Technology in cars is outsmarting owners

MODERN cars are outsmarting their owners, according to new research that flies in the face of studies suggesting car buyers want plenty of advanced technology.

A survey of 1,000 car owners, carried out by BookMyGarage.com, found that 73 per cent of people don't understand how to use all the high-tech gadgets in their car.

That comes despite 54 per cent saying they bought their car on the strength of all the technology it featured.

Tyre pressure monitoring systems, cruise control, stability control and parking sensors are among the facilities that have put drivers' heads in a spin.

Of the many technologies available to them, 45 per cent of the drivers questioned said they regularly use between three and four. Almost one in five people only use one or two of the driver aids their car boasts.

According to the survey, cruise control was the gadget most likely to

IN-CAR GADGETRY: It's now getting ridiculous, with the technology actually in danger of doing more harm than good cause confusion – and therefore gets left alone the most. Special eco-settings were a solid second, with Bluetooth connections also thought bewildering, and 48 per cent of people said simply not understanding them was the main reason for not using their cars to their full potential.

Karen Rotberg, director at BookMyGarage.com, said: "With advanced vehicle technology on the rise, it's important that people are aware of the features their car offers, as they can make the difference both financially and in terms of safety. "What is particularly interesting from the findings is that so many car owners claim they specifically chose the car they did because of its features, yet lots haven't got to grips with them or don't use them – which is a shame considering a car is one of the biggest investments an adult will make."

Animal Technician

Various across Cambridge • £18,549-£21,391

As part of a conscientious team you will be responsible for the care, welfare and husbandry of animals. As well as being able to keep accurate records you will be required to maintain a high standard of hygiene and cleanliness. You will assist with routine scientific procedures and liaise with academic staff to provide for the needs of the animals and research. You will ideally have IAT level 2 or equivalent and will already have, or be working towards a Home Office license, however full training will be provided. You will be highly motivated and be able to work both independently and as part of a team.

Once an offer of employment has been accepted, the successful candidate will be required to undergo a health assessment and a security check.

To apply online for this vacancy and to view further information about the role, please visit: <http://www.jobs.cam.ac.uk/job/8406>

If you have any questions about this vacancy and the application process, please contact UBSRecruitment@admin.cam.ac.uk

Please quote reference AQ07355 on your application and in any correspondence about this vacancy.

Closing date: 06 November 2015.

Service Technician

Central Cambridge • £16,131-£18,549

Based in Central Cambridge, you will enjoy working as part of a small friendly Bio-facility team. The Service maintains the essential provision of clean cages, drinking water bottles and materials to the animal technicians for the daily animal husbandry requirements.

After initial training you will be able to operate simple machinery, including dismantling and reassembling equipment for washing and sterilisation. You will be responsible for the in-house cleaning and some basic husbandry procedures. You will also be involved in the collection and delivery of stores, maintaining stocks and disposal of waste. The ability to work as part of a team is essential. The post will involve some lifting and manual handling for which training will be given.

You should have a good standard of general education and have ideally worked with or cared for animals. Previous experience would be beneficial but not essential as full training will be provided.

The post is available immediately and subject to the satisfactory completion of a 3 month probationary period.

Once an offer of employment has been accepted, the successful candidate will be required to undergo a health assessment and a security check.

To apply online for this vacancy and to view further information about the role, please visit: <http://www.jobs.cam.ac.uk/job/8459>

If you have any questions about this vacancy and the application process, please contact UBSRecruitment@admin.cam.ac.uk

Please quote reference AQ07402 on your application and in any correspondence about this vacancy.

The closing date for applications is Tuesday 10th November 2015.
Interviews will be held from Monday 30th November 2015.

Holidays!

If anywhere might justifiably be described as 'holiday heaven', this exquisite corner of Italy, a long-time favourite of Newmarket guests, is it. At the end of the long sweep of the Bay of Naples, which curves from the bustling city beneath the brooding, triangular cone of Vesuvius, the 'Sorrentine peninsula' juts out into blue waters, the very picture of Mediterranean perfection. Combining a delightful mix of warm days and balmy nights, all the pleasure of the beach, colourful town life and some fascinating sights, this special corner of the world exudes southern Italian charm from its every pore.

Our price includes

- Seven nights' bed and breakfast accommodation at the Villa Angelina in Sant' Agata – a range of nine hotels in two resorts are available at a supplement
- Return flights to Italy from Cambridge
- Return airport-to-hotel transfers
- The services of a friendly, experienced resort based manager

Four find the net to see off Huntingdon

FOUR different goalscorers helped Haverhill register their second win of the season in East Women's League, Division 3NW against Huntingdon.

Holly McCerty, Vicky Steed, Cara Ainsworth and Tina Bunch were all on target for the hosts in the 4-2 victory.

But there was disappointment for Haverhill II as they were beaten 3-1 by Cambridge City IV in 4NW(S) and tasted defeat for the first time since the 2013/14 campaign.

Emily Page-Blair found the net, but it was not enough as they conceded for the first time this season and saw their opponents go top of the table.

Captain Nicole Sisson was upset to see their excellent unbeaten run come to an end and it now looks like being an extremely exciting title race.

Superb Chandler wins Mazda title

Motorsport

BRIAN Chandler won the BRSCC Mazda MX-5 Championship after a thrilling finish at Donington Park.

The 36-year-old Haverhill driver had endured such a mixed season that it was the final race of the championship when Chandler finally secured the title.

After recovering from a poor start to the campaign, with a hat-trick of wins at Croft putting him back on course, he was one of five drivers in contention for the championship.

Sam Smith and Darron Lewis were the joint-leaders going into the final weekend, with Chandler eight points behind.

Two wins put Chandler level on points with Lewis, so in the third and final race all he needed to do was finish above his rival.

An exciting race ended with Chandler finishing in second ahead of Lewis, to secure a championship that seemed most unlikely midway through the season.

"After that final race there

DOMINANT: Brian Chandler on his way to the BRSCC Mazda MX-5 Championship title at Donington
Picture: Jon Easey

was such a sense of relief that I hadn't let anyone down.

"Many had me as odds-on favourite at the beginning of the season, but I had such a rubbish start to the campaign.

"This year has been a real roller-coaster ride."

Chandler paid tribute to Kevin Silvain and BC Cars Motorsport, and sponsors Lancaster Insurance, for their support throughout the year.

"When things started to go wrong in the middle of the year I seriously questioned continuing, but thanks to all their support we carried on."

Golf

Brennan earns final place

CIARAN Brennan has been selected to represent Ireland at the How Did I Do Order of Merit Grand Final.

The Haverhill member was one of the top scorers in his division among Irish golfers, earning his place in the inaugural event.

Brennan travels to The Belfry for the tournament tomorrow.

David Smith produced an impressive performance to win the latest Haverhill medal and J Houchen Cup.

Smith shot nett 62, reducing his handicap by two shots in the process, and won Division Two as well.

He was five shots clear of division runner-up Mark Carpenter, with Gary Kerr third on countback.

Eamonn Bareham won Division One with 65, two ahead of Garry Baird with Steve Nichols third on 70.

In Division Three, Chris Gavin triumphed with 66. Andrew Howard was second on 71 and Ryan Fowler third on countback on 74.

John Paterson overcame the poor weather to win the IFF Challenge with 35 points, along with taking the win in Division Three.

Andrew Howard was second in the division on 30 and Colin Smith one back in third.

David Peck took Division One honours on 33, edging out Dan Wilkins by one with Tom Walker third on countback after scoring 30.

Richard Park won Division Two with 33, Richard Brazier was second on 32 and Steve Piotrowski third on 28.

Howard Wood took the Captain's Shield for best total score over the four quarterly Ridgewell Golf Society meetings.

Haverhill duo Roger Hartley and John Kennedy were runners-up in the fourball better ball competition at the latest Suffolk Winter Alliance meeting at Newton Green, scoring 48 points.

Baker strikes as Rovers are held

RIKI Baker's effort helped Haverhill Rovers earn a share of the spoils for the second game running in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division.

Visitors Ipswich Wanderers took the lead against Rovers with their first attack and maintained their slender advantage at the interval.

However, the home side got back on level terms soon after the restart when Ryan Weaver put in a cross which Baker volleyed home.

Football

The hosts continued to enjoy good possession after this, but were dealt a blow when Ty Alleyne was sent off for picking up a second yellow card.

Nevertheless, Rovers kept going and thought they had got a winner when substitute Marcus Hunt headed home, only for it to be ruled out for offside as the game finished 1-1.

Rovers have a derby match at home to Saffron Walden in the league this Saturday.

Haverhill Borough survived a second-half fightback from Needham Market reserves to secure a 4-3 victory in last Friday night's Thurlow Nunn League, First Division clash.

The visitors found themselves behind early on, but were back on level terms when Craig Pruden volleyed home a cross.

Matt Staines added Borough's second to put them in front and he was involved in the third as well.

It was Staines who was felled in the box for a penalty and Harry Halls slotted home the resulting spot-kick.

And Borough managed to grab a fourth before half time, with Ryan Swallow finishing from a Staines pass.

Needham pulled one back after the restart and added another late on.

Tennis

Haverhill get off to victorious start

HAVERHILL beat Lavenham 5-1 in the Halstead & District Winter League.

In their first match, there were wins for Steve Law and Sharon Mattheus, and Brenton Mattheus and Marcia Armstrong. Law and Brenton Mattheus were also victorious, but Sharon Mattheus and Armstrong lost.

Youth football

Aztecs out of cup

GABRIEL Mason and Aaron Hamer ensured Aztec White's Cambridge & District Colts League Cup tie with Stotfold finished 2-2, but they were beaten 4-3 on penalties.
